

HOW'S THE MARKET? | February 2019

The number of New, Active and Under Contract listings all increased in February, and the number of homes sold increased by 17% compared to the previous month. All signs point to a strong spring selling season with the market being somewhat more balanced than what we've seen these past several years.

